1. A step to a wider variety.
2. Varieties of theatre.
3. Modern problems.
4. Theatre and politics.
5. Origin of theatre.
6. Ladies enter.
7. Not the least important.

A. Modern Western theatre comes in large measure from ancient Greek drama, from which it takes technical terminology, classification into genres, and many of its themes, stock characters, and plot elements. The Greeks also developed the concepts of dramatic criticism, acting as a career, and theatre architecture. The theatre of ancient Greece consisted of three types of drama: tragedy, comedy, and the satyr play.

B. Western theatre developed and expanded considerably under the Romans. The Roman historian Livy wrote that the Romans first experienced theatre in the 4th century BC. The theatre of ancient Rome was a thriving and diverse art form, ranging from festival performances of street theatre, nude dancing, and acrobatics, to the staging of broadly appealing situation comedies, to the highstyle, verbally elaborate tragedies.

C. Theatre took on many different forms in the West between the 15th and 19th centuries, including commedia dell'arte and melodrama. The general trend was away from the poetic drama of the Greeks and the Renaissance and toward a more naturalistic prose style of dialogue, especially following the Industrial Revolution. Theatre today, broadly defined, includes performances of plays and musicals, ballets, operas and various other forms.

D. The eighteenth century in Britain introduced women to the stage, which would have been extremely inappropriate before. These women were looked at as celebrities but on the other hand, it was still very new and revolutionary that they were on the stage and some said they were unladylike and looked down on. Charles II did not like young men playing the parts of young women, so he asked that women play their own parts.

E. Theatre took a big pause during 1642 and 1660 in England because of Cromwell's Interregnum. Theatre was seen as something sinful and the Puritans tried very hard to drive it out of their society. Because of this stagnant period, once Charles II came back to the throne in 1660, theatre (among other arts) exploded because of a lot of influence from France, where Charles was in exile the years previous to his reign.

F. Stagecraft is a term referring to the technical aspects of theatrical, film, and video production. It includes constructing scenery, hanging and focusing of lighting, design and procurement of costumes, makeup, props, stage management, and recording and mixing of sound. Considered a technical rather than an artistic field, it is equally crucial for the practical implementation of a designer's artistic idea.

G. While most modern theatre companies rehearse one piece of theatre at a time, perform that piece for a set "run", retire the piece, and begin rehearsing a new show, repertory companies rehearse multiple shows at one time. Repertory theatre generally involves a group of similarly accomplished actors, and relies more on the reputation of the group than on an individual star actor.

Saturday jobs: memories of weekend working

Research has shown a sharp fall in the number of teenagers who do Saturday jobs. It seems such a shame — my Saturday job as a kitchen porter was something of a rite of passage. I'll never forget long hours A _____, scouring grease off huge saucepans and griddles. Working atmosphere there helped me grow a thicker skin, develop quicker banter and, most importantly, taught me the value of hard work. It also resulted in a steady supply of cash, B _____. I'm not the only one who has strong memories of weekend work. DJ Trevor Nelson said everyone should be able to have a Saturday job: "It taught me a lot, C _____."

The link between the type of Saturday job a celebrity performed and their later career is sometimes obvious. Dragon's Den star and businessman Peter Jones, for example, showed early promise by starting his own business. "I passed my Lawn Tennis Association coaching exam, D _____," he explains. "At the start I was coaching other kids, E _____, for which I could charge £25–30 an hour. While my friends on milk rounds were getting £35 a week, I was doing five hours on a Saturday and earning four times as much."

Skier Chemmy Alcott got a job working for the Good Ski Guide, on the advertising side. "It became clear to me what my personal value to companies could be. It led directly to me finding my head sponsor ... and it offered me an eight-year contract. That gave me the financial backing F _____."

As part of its response to the Saturday job statistics, the UK Commission for Employment and Skills said a lack of early work opportunities makes it harder for young people to acquire experience for their CVs.

- 1. and things would be different if everyone was given the chance
- 2. which let me know he approved of me
- 3. and I persuaded my local club to let me use a court on Saturdays
- 4. which I needed to become a professional skier
- 5. which I would happily spend as I liked
- 6. that I spent in the kitchen of a busy country pub in East Sussex
- 7. but soon I got adults wanting to book lessons

So far there are only two ways to get into space— you either have to be an astronaut or very rich. Countries such as Russia and the USA have space programs, but you need to be highly qualified and very determined if you want to become an astronaut. Only a few of the thousands of applicants make it through the training and selection program. Alternatively, if you have the money and are fit enough, you may be able to buy a place on the space journey, as the US millionaire, Mike Melwill did in 2004. But soon there may be another way.

Asif Mahsood is a 14-year old Pakistani with big plans. He dreams of getting a job in space, but hopes he doesn't need to become an astronaut. And the idea is not so fantastic. Many experts believe that the travel industry will be revolutionized during the next decades by the development of space holidays.

Most people know about the space stations that are already circling the Earth. They are used for research and are operated by professional astronauts. But soon a space station could be built for commercial purposes. A holiday in space would not be cheap, but there are probably already plenty of people who would be prepared to pay.

This is where Asif's dream comes in. He wants to be the manager of the world's first orbiting hotel. It is likely that rocket ships will provide the transport. They could be launched from the Earth's surface, or even from a carrier aircraft high in the atmosphere. The space hotel will be designed with a landing platform for the rocket ship. The passengers could then move into the hotel through a large tube connected to the hotel entrance. This would be necessary because there is no gravity in space. However, inside the space hotel there would need to be a system creating artificial gravity, so that guests could move around normally.

Naturally, if hotels are built in space, there will also be new jobs in space. Guests will need all the normal services found in a hotel on Earth, but there will also be some new possibilities. For example, all sorts of recreation activities could be designed to take advantage of the zero gravity conditions in space. Being able to float around a room, bounce off the walls and ceiling would be very attractive for tourists looking for a new experience. Games of three-dimensional football, basketball or volleyball would certainly be very interesting. The hotel would also have telescopes to look out at the universe, and to look back at the Earth below.

A space hotel will need to have other facilities that are not necessary in normal hotels. It would be more like a small city in some ways, with its own hospital, communication system, police force and fire department.

In the meantime, Asif is going to keep studying hard at school so that he can find a job working in one of the big international hotels in Lahore or Karachi. He wants to qualify in hotel management and continue to study business administration. The hotels are much the same, so Asif believes that the best preparation for a job in space will be gaining plenty of experience working in Earth hotels.

The whole idea of hotels in space may sound a little like science fiction, but 30 years ago technology such as mobile video phones and the Internet seemed to be just a crazy dream, whereas today they are a normal part of everyday life, and it is hard to imagine our world without them.

Who is Mike Melwill?

1. The founder of a new space program.
2. An American scientist.
3. A highly-qualified astronaut.
4. A man who paid for a space travel.

Asif's final aim is to...

1. ...become an astronaut.
2. ...go on a space holiday.
3. ...be a hotel manager in Pakistan.
4. ...work in a new type of a hotel.

What will be new in the operations of space stations in the future?

1. Scientific research will be performed on them.
2. They will be used for training professional astronauts.
3. They will be used for making money.
4. They will be less expensive.

In space hotels, a large tube will be necessary for...

1. ...creating artificial gravity.
2. ...connecting the hotel to the landing area.
3. ...linking hotels with the Earth.
4. ...launching the rocket ships.

Which of the following is NOT described as possible entertainment in space hotels?

1. Walks in the open space.
2. Jumping on the ceiling.
3. Watching the Earth through a telescope.
4. Playing extra dimensional volley-ball.

Space hotels will require...

1. ...exactly the same services and facilities as normal hotels.
2. ...absolutely different services and facilities than normal hotels.
3. ...more services and facilities than normal hotels.
4. ...less services and facilities than normal hotels.

The author argues that...

1. ...many things that used to be science fiction exist nowadays.
2. ...rich people should finance the space exploration.
3. ...space hotels are just a crazy dream.
4. ...it's already hard to imagine our world without space travelling.

38.1. Imagine that you are doing a project on why young people in Zetland do extreme sports. You have found some data on the subject — the results of the opinion polls (see the table below).

Comment on the data in the table and give your opinion on the subject of the project.

Motives	Number of young athletes (%)
To get some adrenalin	47
To follow modern trends	15
To increase self-confidence	14
To fight fears and stress	13
To explore ones limits	11

Write 200–250 words.

Use the following plan:

- make an opening statement on the subject of the project;
- select and report 2–3 facts;
- make 1–2 comparisons where relevant and give your comments;
- outline a problem that can arise with doing extreme sports and suggest a way of solving it;
- conclude by giving and explaining your opinion on the role of extreme sports in the life of young people.

38.2. Imagine that you are doing a project on what problems large cities in Zetland face. You have found some data on the subject — the results of the opinion polls (see the pie chart below).

Comment on the data in the diagram and give your opinion on the subject of the project.

What problems large cities in Zetland face

Write 200–250 words.

Use the following plan:

- make an opening statement on the subject of the project;
- select and report 2–3 facts;

Imagine that you are preparing a project with your friend. You have found some interesting material for the presentation and you want to read this text to your friend. You have 1.5 minutes to read the text silently, then be ready to read it out aloud. You will not have more than 1.5 minutes to read it.

Many of our superstitions came to us from very ancient sources. The idea that one should knock on wood for good luck, for example, is a 4,000-year-old custom that began with some Native American tribes of North America. Noticing that the oak was struck often by lightning, members of the tribe thought that it must be the dwelling place of a sky god. They also thought that boasting of a future personal deed was bad luck and meant the thing would never happen. Knocking on an oak tree was a way of contacting the sky god and being forgiven for boasting.

Another interesting superstition is that it is bad luck to open an umbrella indoors. In eighteenth-century England, umbrellas had stiff springs and very strong metal spokes. Opening one indoors could indeed cause an accident. It could injure someone or break a fragile object. This superstition came about for practical reasons.

Пояснение. Dear Jasper,

Thanks for your message. Im sorry I couldnt answer you earlier.

A trip to Africa sounds great, I hope your friends liked it. As for me, it has always been my dream to go to a cruise where I can communicate with lots of interesting people from different countries, learn more about foreign culture and traditions, improve my language. But unfortunately my parents don't let me travel alone. Therefore I would like to take any of my wonderful friends with me. It can be a great challenge for me to be alone in an unknown place, but I am sure that we can have a lot of fun together.

Anyway, you mentioned your sister is getting married soon. How old is your sister? Does she like her wedding dress? Is she waiting for this day?

Keep in touch.

Best wishes,

Ellen

Пояснение. 38.1. Nowadays extreme sports are very popular among young people. The aim of the project I am currently working on is to find out why young people in Zetland do extreme sports. As part of my project, I have found and analyzed some relevant data presented in the table.

According to the data, there is quite a wide range of reasons why younger generation is fond of extreme sports. It is clear that getting some adrenalin is at the top of the table, 47% of the respondents named it. Following modern trends and increasing self-confidence are also quite popular with young sportsmen in Zetland (15% and 14% respectively), whereas fighting fears and stress and exploring their limits appear to be the least popular reasons to do extreme sports.

It is worth mentioning that getting some adrenalin encourages young people three times more often than following modern trends. Obviously, doing extreme sports such as snowboarding and windsurfing helps them get new and exciting emotions.

One problem that is usually associated with doing extreme sports is the high risk of being traumatized. People, especially adolescents, usually start doing extreme sports unaided. One solution to this problem is to organize volunteers centres where well-qualified trainers can explain the basic rules that will help avoid injuries.

In conclusion, I think that extreme sports play the great role in the life of young people. It is a nice way to spend their pastimes actively. (238 words)

38.2. Recent studies show that the population continues to increase, moreover, the great number of people move to cities. The aim of the project I am currently working on is to find out what problems large cities in Zetland face. As part of my project, I have found and analyzed some relevant data presented in the pie chart.

According to the data, there is quite a wide range of problems what can occur in modern cities. It is clear that traffic jams are at the top of the table, 46% of the respondents named it. Too many migrants and industrial pollution are also quite discussed issues in Zetland (19% and 16% respectively), whereas a high population density and a high crime rate appear not to be particularly dramatic challenges right now.

It is worth mentioning that traffic management system bothers people nine times more often than their security. Obviously, the security services work more effectively than the department of traffic.

One problem that is usually associated with life in large cities for teenagers is the lack of places where they can get together in order to make art. So that they usually occupy abandoned buildings that is not safe. One solution to this problem is to open special centres for the adolescents where they can express themselves in the care of volunteers.

In conclusion, I firmly believe that despite disadvantages that living in a big city can have, it is obviously a further step in the evolution. All together people can overcome the difficulties. (253 words)

Пояснение. Hey, Kate. You know what? I've just found two pictures suitable for our project "Household chores". Let me tell you a bit more about them.

They are relevant to our project because in both pictures there are people doing some work around the house. In the first photo there is a woman ironing clothes. In the second picture there is a woman as well, she is mopping the floor in the living room. There are a few differences to illustrate our project better. Obviously, these pictures depict different kinds of housework such as ironing and mopping the floor.

In my opinion, the two types of household chores have their advantages. For instance, ironing is very pleasant in a cold season as it warms very well. As for mopping the floor, it can be very good exercises. Of course, the both types of household chores have their disadvantages too. For example, ironing takes a lot of time and it is very dull. At the same time, people have to mop the floor very often to keep their house clean, it is annoying.

As for me, I prefer ironing as I love it when my clothes are neat. Also, I can watch films while ironing.

So, shall we use these photos in our project? Call me when you're ready to discuss if we can use them. Bye-bye.
